

EDDLESTON BELL - 500YEARS.
(Bell Logo)

The great weekend in April marks only the beginning of our quincentenary celebrations. Still to come:

Friday August 24th - Dunblane Cathedral Handbell Ringers perform in Eddleston Parish Church. Tickets £5 adults & £2.50 children. Refreshments will be available.

Friday 28th September - Supper dance in Barony Castle dancing to the music of "Fantoosh." Tickets £12.50. Time 7.30pm

Saturday 10th November - Nearly New Sale - 10.00 - 12.30 in Village Hall.
(Further information - Janet Macdougall )

Friday 21st December - Eddleston Parish Church Junior Choir will perform 'The Bell That Cried' by Peter Canwell. They will be joined by friends from the local community for what promises to be an enjoyable evening of music and song. Refreshments will be available. Donations of £4 will be invited. Children free.

One or two other items are still in the pipeline, so keep a look out in the Peeblesshire news as well as The Magazine.

We very much hope that the above events will be supported by the whole village community and that members will bring along their friends to be a part of this, building on the warmth, friendship and excitement generated in April.

A special mention must go to Christine MacKay who has faithfully baked delicious bell-shaped biscuits which we have enjoyed with our coffee following each evening service since January.

"Thank you Christine. Keep up the good work!"

Postcards of the church are now available and the commemorative booklet should be ready shortly.

There are still mugs, T shirts and pencils available - contact Leona McInnes 730391.
